“ We are praying for your family at this time of loss. We don't know why Desaray was taken home at such a young age, maybe so others can be inspired through Desaray's death. We hope that maybe everyone who has read about what a beautiful woman she was inside and out, that just maybe this will shake some reality into some, and her death will save many. We hate so bad that this was the outcome for your family. May God give you the comfort you need to be strong at this time. She was such a beautiful girl. May God hold you in his arms with comfort for all of your family.
