“ To the Bailey Family: Sending my condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. I have a thought in mind I'd love to share regarding a strong belief in a loving God who brings comfort. The Bible says at Psalm 34:15: "The eyes of Jehovah are on the righteous, and his ears listen to their cry for help." Expressing our feelings in prayer to God is more than good therapy or a means of organizing our thoughts. It actually helps us to establish a personal relationship with our Creator, who can use his power to comfort us.

“ I am very sorry for your loss. My heart goes out to you in this difficult time. I know it's hard to go through this pain, but I hope you may find comfort in knowing that God cares about how you feel and that He promises that “there is going to be a resurrection.” (Acts 24:15) (1 Peter 5:7) Won't that be wonderful to see our loved ones again! I hope this promise brings you comfort as it does me.
