“ Mike played basketball in high school with Eddie his senior year. When he and Sandy Marion got married, his house was the party house. All of us "unmarried couples" always gathered at their house for parties. After they moved to Greenville, Alabama, we still went down there for weekend fun with them. Mike Jr. was a baby! They were always so gracious and so much fun. Then when everyone moved around the country for their "big boy" jobs, We didn't see him for a long time although remaining in touch. We recently met back up with him when Sandy was in town and we got together with them and Mike Jr. It was great. Then we had Mike and Mike Jr. over to the house for a fun karaoke night. What a blast! He really enjoyed himself. We were hoping for many more gatherings with him but God had other plans. I'm sure he is back in the arms of Jennifer once again. But his outgoing spirit will remain here on this earth with all of us. RIP Mike, dear friend. We love you!
